Veteran Assessment Travel Pilot

To the President or Service Officer,

I wanted to reach out and share a limited pilot program Wheels for the Wise is currently offering.

As you may already know, Wheels for the Wise is a Canadian company providing pre-scheduled, trauma-informed mobility support for individuals attending medical and related appointments. We currently support Veterans across multiple provinces and have built our service around consistency, trust, and predictability. Many of our drivers also come from Veteran and first responder backgrounds, which helps create a calmer, more familiar experience for those we serve.

Wheels for the Wise has launched a limited pilot program to support Veterans attending assessment-related appointments where transportation is not otherwise in place through the existing framework.

This matters because many Veterans are required to attend assessments, complete paperwork, and work through a sometimes-difficult process before certain conditions or treatment needs are recognized. For some, simply getting to that assessment becomes the barrier.

Our trauma-informed mobility support is designed to better accommodate Veterans living with PTSD, anxiety, and physical mobility challenges by providing a calmer, more structured, and more predictable experience when it matters most.

Funded by Wheels for the Wise and offered at no cost to the Veteran, this pilot is being delivered within our existing service regions on a controlled, case-by-case basis, with coordination alongside existing care teams where appropriate. The goal is to help Veterans attend these appointments when transportation may otherwise be a barrier, while also helping us better understand where this kind of structured support may be most helpful.

If your branch is connected with Veterans who may benefit from this type of support, you are welcome to direct them to Wheels for the Wise for more information by visiting wheelsforthewise.com or calling 1-888-719-WISE (9473).

Thank you for the work you do in supporting Veterans in your community.

Sincerely,

Wesley Bazowsky
